Hi Samara,

I've attached my reference and was so happy to write this for you!

The Grief Recovery Method®
CERTIFIED GRIEF RECOVERY SPECIALIST™

Samara is one of the best presenters of the truly challenging subject matter, law and ethics, that I have experienced in my nearly twenty years of practice. She brings real life situations, solid research and confidence building understanding of the many issues we could possibly encounter. To a subject most of us would rather avoid, she leads us through with a great sense of humor, and reassurance of our capacity to approach any challenge in resourceful ways. I have reached out to Samara for consultation several different times and have always been greeted with a welcoming, interested, and "happy to help" response. Her questions, thoughts, and experience have grounded me each time in a sense of trust in my ability to fully engage with the situation at hand. She is more than generous with her time, knowledge and wisdom. Samara is an invaluable resource, and I'm so glad to have found my way into her classroom!
