Hi Samara,

Your email went into my spam folder and luckily I just found it! It's been a year (of 2020!) so I apologize if the review isn't very detailed. I'd appreciate it if you don't use my last name (initial is fine) in anything that you publish.

Thank you! Megan

What stood out for me with Samara's presentation was that she broke down the concepts into understandable pieces for us and gave us examples. She also made herself very available to answer questions at the breaks, and even offered to consult outside of the seminar. I was very impressed when she stayed true to her word. I emailed her a few weeks later, she responded, and helped me understand a concept better via phone consultation.
